Dear Mining Ordinance Committee Folks.

Good morning & thanks for your work on the above.

I'm not exactly sure where the new mining ordinance stands, but I wanted to encourage you to develop an ordinance that is very protective of ground water and avoid any mining activity that would jeopardize the water table.

I realize that ordinances are both a pain to develop and not particularly popular. But many of our ordinances can be changed if we decided they are too restrictive or not restrictive enough.

However, if we have a problem with the water table, we may well have a big problem that will be very difficult to assess, to understand, and to fix. Changing any sort of mining ordinance after this sort of problem occurs seems like it will be too little and too late.

Thanks again for your work on the ordinance and considering this comment.

Kind regards

Scott
